

Teachers' Night at Oakville Galleries
Thursday 27 January 2011, 5:30 – 7:00 PM
1306 Lakeshore Road East, Oakville ON
Free

Join us for an informal evening of art and ideas. Teachers' night at Oakville Galleries includes a guided tour of our current exhibitions and an introduction to the Galleries' innovative elementary and secondary school programmes that connect contemporary art with Ontario curriculum strands, including Science and Technology, Mathematics, Visual Art, Social Studies, Canadian History, Language and Media Arts. Exchange ideas about artworks and discuss pedagogical strategies with fellow educators.

All participants are entered into a draw for 40% off registration fees for up to 30 students for the school programme of your choice.

Pre-registration required.*

Un-home-ly

27 November 2010 – 20 February 2011
Oakville Galleries in Gairloch Gardens and Centennial Square
Curated by Matthew Hyland

Working from the literal translation of Unheimlich, Un-home-ly assembles works in painting, sculpture, video, and photography to highlight the feminist tendency toward prodigious articulations of the domestic, the social and the corporeal as a means to reveal the architecture of contemporary culture.

School Programmes
At Oakville Galleries and in your classroom
In English and French for Kindergarten to Grade 12

Our programmes are designed by artists and educators in collaboration with consultants and teachers from Halton-Peel area school boards. Programmes explore contemporary art practices with links to modern and historical artworks and address the Ontario curriculum in Visual and Media Arts, Science and Technology, Social Studies, Language Arts and in Media Literacy. Programmes are available in both English and French.
